	Preface	i-ii
1.	On the History of Certain Early Developments in Sampling Theory T.J. Rao	1-10
2.	Global Hunger Index (GHI) Reminds the Phrase “Lies, Damned Lies and Statistics” Padam Singh	11-19
3.	How Gainfully Can the Additional Units Be Used? Opendra Salam Singh, Gurumayum Sandweep Sharma and Bikas K. Sinha	21-30
4.	A Nonparametric Structure Based on Hierarchical Dirichlet Processes for Studying Gene-Gene and Gene-Environment Interactions Durba Bhattacharya and Sourabh Bhattacharya	31-41
5.	A comparison of CAN and UMVU Estimators in Inliers-Prone Distributions K. Muralidharan	43-50
6.	Overcoming Challenges Associated with Early Bayesian State Estimation of Planted Acres in the United States Balgobin Nandram	51-78
7.	A New Development of Threshold Selection in Extreme Value Theory K.M. Sakthivel and V. Nandhini	79-92
8.	Statistical Inference for Frechet Distribution Based on Dual Generalized Order Statistics Bhagwati Devi, Qazi J. Azhad, Ankita Sharma and Ayush Tripathi	93-106
9.	Long Memory in Volatility: Application of Fractionally Integrated GARCH Model Debopam Rakshit and Ranjit Kumar Paul	107-118
10.	Assessment of Child Mortality and its Socioeconomic and Demographic Determinants- Evidences from the Latest National Family Health Survey of India Anuradha Rajkonwar Chetiya and Vishal Deo	119-129

11. Statistical and Artificial Neural Network Approaches for the Classification of Rice Genotypes based on Morphological Characters 131-137
Shavi Gupta, Manish Sharma, S.E.H. Rizvi, R.K. Salgotra and S.K. Gupta
12. On Zero-inflated Generalized Alternative Hyper-Poisson Distribution and its Properties 139-150
C. Satheesh Kumar and Rakhi Ramachandran
13. First collision time of Three independent random walks 151-168
Arighna Dey, Kumarjit Saha and Anish Sarkar
14. Analysis of Large Medical Databases: Addressing the Clinical Relevance of Statistically Significant Findings 169-203
Rachana Lele, Anand Seth, Sameer Patel, Jianmin Pan, Marepalli B. Rao, and Shesh N. Rai
15. Investigating Regional Income-Based Shared Frailty among Women with Breast Cancer 205-215
Vishal Deo, S. Pyne, Meghana Ray and M. Vishnu Vardhan Rao
